

JFK Gives Up on Rights, Tax Cut This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy all but wrote off today prospects of congressional passage of his tax reduction and civil rights programs this year.

Kennedy did this as much by what he didn't say as by what he did tell a news conference. For the longer outlook, the President said he is "looking forward to the record of this Congress," no matter how dark the prospects are now. With a smile, he had an after thought that brought a ripple of laughter.

"But this is going to be an 18-month delivery."

That would put production of some major legislative results into mid-1964.

The chief executive nevertheless failed to challenge a question pegged to the possibility that two key measures, taxes and civil rights, will not be passed in 1963. He did prod Congress to get on with them, and said he hopes the tax bill can get to the Senate floor before the end of the year.

Kennedy's foreign aid bill is in massive trouble too, and the President reacted hotly to that situation. Without this policy, he said, he cannot meet his "responsibilities in the field of foreign policy."

Kennedy had a general observation at one point about the state of the troubled world.

"I think," he said, "it's a very dangerous, untidy world and we've got to live with it."

Further long delay on both taxes and civil rights legislation would be unfortunate, Kennedy insisted.

He voices a hope that the measure to slash taxes $11 billion can reach the Senate floor before the end of this year—a dim hope in the light of the President's legislative jam.

Kennedy said the hearings on the tax bill have been "quite voluminous" and that it seems possible to shorten the Senate hearings and bring the measure to the floor before the end of the year.

State Areas Off Limits to Russians

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Russian travelers cannot enter a broad area in central and east-central Arkansas, but the State Department won't say why.

Twelve Arkansas counties are among hundreds in the United States declared off-limits to Soviet personnel.

The department said board guidelines for closing the counties are (1) security and (2) to match areas closed to Americans in Russia.

The closed counties are Cleburne, Conway, Faulkner, Prairie, Lonoke and White in Central Arkansas; Crittenden, Cross, Lee, Monroe, St. Francis and Woodruff in East Arkansas.

The Little Rock Air Force Base and Central Arkansas Titan II missile sites north of Little Rock might account for closing some of the counties. The counties closed are in a block across the east-central section of the state.

Lonoke, White, Faulkner, Conway, Cleburne and Woodruff counties were closed to travel except in transit by citizens of Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland and Rumania.

Twenty-six per cent of the nation now is off-limit to Russians except those assigned to the United States or traveling under exchange programs. A like percentage of the Soviet Union is closed to American travelers.

Mrs. Nhu Joins Her Family

ROME (AP)—Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu arrived today from Los Angeles to rejoin her three younger children and to start a new life for her revolt-shattered family.

The former First Lady of South Viet Nam seemed exhausted but smiled wanly.

She was accompanied by her elder daughter, Le Thuy, 18. They had left Saigon on a world tour a month before the coup which cost the lives of her husband and her brother-in-law, President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Mrs. Nhu's three younger children were flown here a week ago through assistance of the U.S. State Department. The younger children are two boys, Trac, 15, Quynh, 11, and a girl, Le Quyen, 4.

UN Calls Red Korean Attack Doublecross

By C. S. CHIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The U.N. command accused Communist North Korea today of a double-cross ambush of eight unarmed U.S. and South Korean soldiers in the demilitarized zone. One American was wounded and a South Korean captain was presumed dead.

The U.N. command said the Communists trapped the tiny unit and fired about 1,000 rounds in about four hours Wednesday afternoon. Seven men escaped after darkness fell.

North Korea was advised in advance that the two Americans and six South Koreans were going into the zone to check border markings, a U.N. spokesman said, and each man wore a yellow arm band identifying him as being on "authorized business."

The South Korean, seriously wounded, was left behind when the rest of the group plunged into an icy river and hid beneath its bank until dark.

The wounded American, an enlisted man, was shot in the thigh but got away. His identity was withheld until his family was notified.

The other American, Lt. Col. Alphonse R. Clark, 43, of Leavenworth, Kan., also was hospitalized, suffering from shock and exposure. He was the leader of the group.

The shooting occurred about 60 miles northeast of Seoul, on the north bank of a branch of the Han River.

Clark's mission was to check border markings that divide the zone into North and South Korean halves. The zone, about 3,000 yards wide, was established across the Korean Peninsula by the 1953 armistice to

Mother of 3 Admits Illicit Relationship With Lawyer Charged With Killing Wife

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A petite mother of three has testified in the trial of T. Eugene Thompson on a murder charge that she had an illicit relationship with the defendant.

Jackie Okoneski Olesen testified Wednesday about trips to hotels and motels in other cities with Thompson over a period of years.

Prosecutor William Randall claims Thompson engineered the murder of his wife, Carol, 34, for the love of Mrs. Olesen and for the more than $1 million insurance he took out on his wife's life during the 13 months preceding her death last March 6. Thompson, 35, a St. Paul attorney, is charged with first degree murder.

Mrs. Olesen said she met Thompson in 1957 when she was a witness in a divorce case. She said she again met him in 1958 when she started a divorce action against her first husband.

Preceding her on the stand was her estranged second husband, Ronald Olesen. He said he had telephoned the Thompson home and, in the absence of Thompson, had told Mrs. Thompson to tell her husband that "I was tired of him bothering my wife and that if he did not quit it I was going to try to get him some way—legally or physically—to stop him."

On cross examination, Mrs. Olesen said she had broken off with Thompson in 1962 after he had told her he never intended to marry her.

BLAST DAMAGE — Passers-by examine the shattered plate glass window of the Continental bus station in downtown San Antonio, Texas, following an explosion at the Medina Air Base. The base, located about 10 miles west of downtown, is reported to be an Atomic Energy Commission installation. Latest reports say the blast was not nuclear in nature, but was a chemical high explosive.

Foreign Aid Sliced by $20 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—The already heavily cut foreign aid authorization bill has been sliced again. This time it's a $20 million nick.

By a 51-41 count Wednesday the Senate voted to cut supporting assistance for defense pact allies from $400 million to $380 million. This brought cuts on the Senate floor to $480 million.

Another $327,250,000 was chopped off by the Foreign Relations Committee before the measure reached the floor nearly three weeks ago.

At $3,722,365,000, the aid ceiling for the current fiscal year is now $807,250,000 below President Kennedy's original request.

Snow Flurries in Parts of U. S.

Snow flurries and occasional rain dampened much of the Northeast today, although amounts were considerably less than Wednesday.

Precipitation was concentrated around the southern shores of the Great Lakes, in the Ohio Valley and in scattered areas of New York State and New England.

Columbus, Ohio, reported an inch of snow on the ground. Other areas had lesser amounts.

Extensive cloudy cover also was reported over much of the Northwest with light rains falling from northern California into Washington.

Most of the central area and all of the Southeast had clear to partly cloudy weather.

Construction Bill Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee approved today money for construction projects at hundreds of military bases — including $2,775,000 for three Arkansas installations.

The appropriation included $549,000 for Blytheville Air Force Base, $1,646,000 for Little Rock Air Force Base and $580,000 for construction of 33 family housing units at the Pine Bluff Arsenal.

The projects were authorized by Congress this year or in previous years. The money measure now goes before the House and then to the Senate.

Rockefeller Takes Drive to Union

By NEIL GILBRIDE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, carrying his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination before the AFL-CIO and its 15.5 million members said today that creating more jobs is the nation's "first order of business."

The New York governor's call for a tax cut tied to strict control of federal spending fell largely on deaf ears at the opening session of the labor organization's convention.

The policy-making Executive Council has let it be known the AFL-CIO fears unemployment far more than federal deficits.

Rockefeller proposed a national job information and placement program, including loans for jobless workers to move where they could find employment.

His remarks were in a prepared address.

He spoke as the convention prepared to consider resolutions demanding a $10-billion tax cut, a drastic measure in the minimum wage, a 35-hour week and a broad range of federal programs to provide jobs for the nation's 3.5 million unemployed.

Rockefeller came to the AFL-CIO convention from Miami Beach, where he told a meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association Wednesday that he wants to be president so he can return the United States to the principles on which it was built.

In an obvious attack on Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, his leading potential opponent for the GOP nomination, Rockefeller emphasized that he, unlike the senator, opposes any federal right-to-work law.

Goldwater has introduced legislation to ban union shop agreements, under which a worker must join the union after being hired. Twenty states already have such right to work laws.

Ouachita to Get Camden P. O.

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—Ouachita Baptist College will get the old Camden Post Office building and site for use in conducting adult education extension courses.

David Phillips, administrator of the General Services Administration office at Dallas, Texas, said Wednesday the surplus building would be turned over to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for conveyance to the college.

Bids on State Land

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Purchasing Agent Mack Sturgis will open bids Dec. 3 on two tracts of State Hospital land totaling 331.9 acres in Saline County. He said the state had previously tried unsuccessfully to sell the land, which is appraised at $34,500.

Mammoth Spring Park Is Likely

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An old dream of a state park at Mammoth Springs may become reality Nov. 22.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus will go to Mammoth Spring on that date to negotiate with owners of property bordering the spring and he hopes to get a deed to 40 acres.

"I think this would make one of the finest parks in the system," Faubus said today. "That is a beautiful spring."

Lou Oberste, publicist for the State Publicity and Parks Commission, said the Chamber of Commerce of the Ozarks at Mammoth Spring has been working out details of the transaction to put the property in state hands.

Mammoth Spring has long been a prime tourist attraction, even without development.

The spring itself covers 18 acres and the flow has been measured at 36 million gallons an hour. The spring forms the Spring River on the north edge of the town of Mammoth Spring.

There is a standing dispute between Arkansas and Missouri about whether Mammoth Spring or Big Spring in Southern Missouri is the largest spring in the world.

Oberste said Mammoth Spring has been called the 8th Wonder of the United States and that actually it is the point of emergence of an underground river.

A federal fish hatchery was built on one side of the spring in 1904, but the remainder of the perimeter is privately owned.

The 1957 legislature authorized creation of a park at the spring if property could be obtained.

U.S. to Aid Stricken Area in Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Federal force in the form of a crash program has been turned on to lighten a burden that becomes heaviest in the cold winter for thousands of poor people in eastern Kentucky.

President Kennedy, in ordering the program Wednesday at Washington, called the area "the most severely distressed area in the nation." He directed federal agencies to make special efforts to give enough food, shelter and medical care during the winter.

Gov. Bert Combs, who met with Kennedy and other officials at the White House, hailed the move. "I am more encouraged than I've ever been," he said.

Conditions in the eastern Kentucky mountains have been starkly portrayed in reports over the years. A number of factors—primarily the decline of the once-prosperous coal industry—enter into the picture.

The mountain people suffer one of the highest unemployment rates in the nation. In winter, food, fuel and shelter are prime aims. In past springs, another burden, in the form of floods, has driven many from their homes and caused widespread damage.

President Irked by Cuts in Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—In an angry attack on congressional decisions to slash foreign aid, President Kennedy declared today he cannot fulfill his "responsibilities in the field of foreign policy" without the aid program.

The President told his news conference he does not understand why Congress is willing to provide $7.5 billion for the atomic energy and space programs, but has repeatedly cut the aid bill and tacked on amendments barring help to specific countries.

The present attack, he said, is the worst since the inception of the Marshall Plan, which initiated the aid program immediately after World War II.

His wrath apparently was aimed at Senate action which has reduced the administration's $4.5-billion request to $3.7 billion. The House voted $3.5 billion.

The President had hoped to get the House cuts restored in the current Senate consideration of the program.

Kennedy said each of the past three presidents—and their opponents in every election campaign—"all recognized the importance of this program."

"I don't understand why we're suddenly so fatigued," Kennedy said with heavy emphasis.

We spend $2.5 billion on the atomic energy program and $5 billion on space."

The most recent cut in the program was a $20-million nick. The aid program, too, Kennedy declared, "is essential to the conduct of our foreign policy."

His remarks, delivered with harder emphasis than newsmen have observed in months, was prompted by a reporter's question as to what might happen if Congress should cut off foreign aid funds entirely.

The President retorted that he didn't believe Congress would "be so unwise . . . unless we're going to retreat from the world."

"I have just tried to make it clear," the President said deliberately, "that I cannot fulfill my responsibilities in the field of foreign policy without this program."

What, he asked, will happen if the situation in Laos, Viet Nam, and other trouble spots grows worse? "Are they going to blame the Senate or are they going to blame me?"

He pointed a finger at his own chest and said he knew the answer to that question.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas producers started 4,955,000 broiler chicks during the week ended Nov. 9, the Crop Reporting Service Estimated today. This was five per cent above the figure for the previous week.

Of the total placements in Arkansas, 4,204,000 chicks were hatched in the state. There were 265,000 broiler chicks shipped out of the state during the week.

Kennedy Lashes Russia for Arrest of U.S. Professor

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy warned the Soviet Union today that the arrest of Frederick C. Barghoorn of Yale as an alleged spy could have "a most serious effect" on future U.S.-Russian cultural relations.

Flatly denying that Barghoorn, a distinguished political scientist, was spying, Kennedy spoke out strongly at a news conference.

Shortly before the conference, the United States had abruptly canceled negotiations with Moscow for a new cultural exchange agreement.

"Prof. Barghoorn was not on an intelligence mission of any kind," the President emphasized.

The United States, the chief executive asserted, is deeply concerned not only at the arrest of Barghoorn, but at the fact that U.S. officials are kept in ignorance for days about the fact of his seizure.

Foy D. Kohler, American ambassador to Moscow, and other U.S. diplomats have lodged six protests with Russia in the last 38 hours, Kennedy pointed out.

Barghoorn, the President asserted, had played a most helpful and constructive role in the exchange of students with the Soviets and in other cultural affairs.

His arrest was completely unjustified, Kennedy added, and "his early release is essential if these cultural programs are to continue."

Kohler was asked Wednesday night to give his opinion on whether a delegation, scheduled to leave for Moscow today to discuss the cultural agreement should postpone the trip.

Kohler's reply reached the State Department slightly more than a hour before Kennedy was due to meet newsmen. The ambassador, officials said, advised that the negotiations should be canceled at least until the Soviets give a satisfactory reply to the strong U.S. protest filed against the arrest of the Yale professor.

Barghoorn, a political scientist at Yale University's Department of Soviet Studies, is "a member of the committee which handles the placing of Soviet students who come to the United States under the exchange agreement and screening American students going to the Soviet Union."

The Soviet Foreign Ministry notified the U.S. Embassy in Moscow Tuesday that Barghoorn, 52, had been arrested several days earlier on spy charges. The professor, author of several books critical of Russia, had been traveling on a 30-day tourist visa.

Though no decision on the trip has been made as yet, the feeling at the State Department is that it should be postponed unless Barghoorn is released.

Wednesday, Foy D. Kohler, U.S. ambassador to Russia, called on Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin in Moscow and demanded Barghoorn's release.

While the administration awaited Moscow's reaction to Kohler's protests, the State Department said that a 16-member so-called goodwill delegation from the Soviet Union is nothing but a vehicle for Soviet propaganda and not "an appropriate organization for the conduct of exchanges."

The Soviet group arrived Wednesday night in New York en route to Washington on the first leg of a three-week, coast-to-coast trip. It is reportedly composed of prominent Soviet academicians, representing art, literature and journalism.

Leave Trash Barrels for Travelers

Recently, the Arkansas State Highway Department has placed trash barrels on U.S. Highway 67 north of Prescott to Texarkana. This is a pilot and experimental project to assist the traveling public in eliminating litter on highways in line with the state wide policy to beautify highways and help make Arkansas a beautiful scenic attraction to tourists.

The results are greatly pleasing and most gratifying and many compliments have been received by the Highway Department—especially from out-of-state visitors.

However, the cooperation of all persons is further solicited in not making it a community dumping ground for all manner of debris and garbage. This defeats the purpose for which the receptacles were originally placed.

keep the Communist and U.N. armies apart.
A U.N. spokesman gave this account of the incident:
The inspection team had been in the zone about two hours when the Communists, hidden in thick underbrush and grass, opened fire from about 150 yards away.

Clark and his men ran for the river, seeking cover. The South Korean captain couldn't make it.

Communist automatic weapons kept up the fire. A small boat started across the river to pick up the party as scheduled but the Reds fired at that too. The boat crew abandoned it. When darkness fell, the boat recovered and the small party tumbled in and crossed the river to the U.N. lines. They were numbed by the cold and exhausted.

The U.N. command was expected to call a meeting of the Military Armistice Commission to lodge a strong protest.

A U.N. spokesman said that the attack was unprovoked. The number of men permitted in the demilitarized zone at one time is limited by the armistice agreement, which also bans automatic weapons such as those the U.N. said were fired at Clark's group.

Charges Reduced in Murder Case

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Charges were reduced from first to second degree murder Tuesday at the beginning of the trial of Jerry Don Vinson, 22, and Robert Burtin Bewley, 62, both of London in Pope County. The prosecution requested the change in charges in Pope Circuit Court.

Episcopal Policy Is Under Study

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A major statement of Episcopal Church policy toward the ecumenical movement was expected today from the church's House of Bishops.

The bishops scheduled a news conference from 12:30 p.m. and indicated decisions reached during the last three days would be announced at that time.

The bishops have worked in executive session examining church doctrines in search of a path Episcopalians will be willing to follow toward church unity.

The most searching analysis has been directed at a tenet which may feel is the main block to wholehearted Episcopal participation in the ecumenical movement—the historic episcopate.

This is the belief that the church should be governed by bishops, priests and deacons who have received authority in an unbroken line from the apostles of Christ.

The bishops heard three papers on the episcopate yesterday, discussed it in five group meetings, then spent several hours molding an official position.

The discussions apparently moved more swiftly than the bishops expected. They said before the meeting began that no statement would be made before Friday when the meeting ends.

Another executive session was scheduled today but it was believed the bishops completed their work on unity Wednesday and would turn today to the role of the church in the world.

Unity and the church - world questions were the major items on the agenda for this meeting.

The closing session Friday morning will be devoted to election of a bishop for the new missionary Diocese of Columbia, created Tuesday, and of two suffragan (assistant) bishops for the Diocese of Mexico.

Episcopalians have for some times been conducting ecumenical discussions with the Presbyterian Church, the Methodist Church and the United Church of Christ.

River Work Bids

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Mississippi Valley Engineering and Construction Co. of Memphis submitted the apparent low bid of $125,620 Wednesday on construction of 4,500 feet of revetments and 1,500 feet of pile dikes on the north bank of the Arkansas River eight miles southwest of Conway. Army Engineers, who opened bids, estimated the project at $136,330.

With Other Editors

PUBLISHERS HAVE PROBLEMS, TOO

Publication of a newspaper presents problems, not all of which are related to politics or to the news and editorial ends of the business. Consider for a moment the North Carolina publisher who relates this experience with a man who placed a classified ad in his home-town paper. Here's the history of the ad:

Monday: "For Sale: R. D. Smith has one sewing machine for sale PHO 958. Call after 7 p.m. and ask for Mrs. Kelly who lives with him cheap."

Tuesday: "We regret having erred in R. D. Smith's ad yesterday. It should have read: For Sale: R. D. Smith has one sewing machine for sale. Cheap. PHO 958 and ask for Mrs. Kelly who lives with him after 7 p.m."

Wednesday: "R. D. Smith has informed us that he has received several annoying telephone calls because of an error we made in his classified ad yesterday. His ad stands corrected: For Sale: R. D. Smith has one sewing machine for sale. Cheap. PHO 958 after 7 p.m. and ask for Mrs. Kelly who loves with him."

Thursday: "Notice: I, R. D. Smith, have no sewing machine for sale. I smashed it. Don't call 958, the phone has been taken out. I have not been carrying on with Mrs. Kelly. Until yesterday, she was my housekeeper."

All of which brings to mind another ad in (thank goodness) another newspaper that went something like this:

"For sale: The ladies of the First Presbyterian Church have discarded clothing of all kinds. They may be seen in the church basement any day after 6 o'clock." - The Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle

Tankers Hit at Sea and Set Afire

BUZZARDS BAY, Mass. (AP) — A Norwegian freighter and a coastal tanker collided in early morning haze today 10 miles off the southern entrance of Cape Cod Canal and were locked together in furious flames.

The Coast Guard said fire was raging aboard the tanker Dynafuel, 3,100 tons, as she was joined to the 6,732-ton freighter Fernview.

The Fernview's fire apparently was brought under control and the 15 to 20-man crew of Dynafuel was transferred to the Fernview as the blazing tanker settled in the water.

The Coast Guard cutter General Greene moved perilously close to the fire-swept tanker in efforts to separate the two vessels.

One seaman, unidentified, was reported to have suffered a leg injury. He was taken off the Fernview on a small boat and was flown by helicopter to Otis Air Force Base.

The Dynafuel was proceeding in ballast from Newington, N.H., to Newark, N.J. She had discharged a partial cargo at Sun Oil storage depot in Revere Tuesday and then proceeded to Newington.

Most of her crewmen were believed to be from the Philadelphia area. The Fernview was en route to Boston with general cargo from Japan and the Philippines after a stop in New York. Her Boston agents are Peabody & Lane Co. The Coast Guard reported the Fernview is owned by Glitire & Marina.

A newsman from Providence radio station WPRO flew over the area and reported the bow of the freighter apparently collided with the stern of the tanker.

He said thick black smoke drifted in the nazy atmosphere as the General Greene and another cutter, the LeGare, moved in on the fiery scene.

Says Strong GOP Needed in Arkansas

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Good government comes not by chance, nor easily, Oklahoma Gov. Henry Bellmon said Wednesday night, and non-political employees are needed for successful politics.

Bellmon, a Republican, told 150 persons at a civic club meeting that a two-party system improves government because it forces both parties to run their "best men and give him their best support."

The one-party system strangles new leadership, he said.

Bellmon was introduced by Winthrop Rockefeller, the GOP national committeeman from Arkansas and a long-time fighter for a two-party system in the state.

The Oklahoma governor outlined some of the steps he used in the campaign that made him governor in a traditionally Democratic state.

Money should be spent wisely in a campaign, he said, often in the form of salaries for professionals in advertising and organization.

Also, a party trying to develop itself can "pick on cripples," Bellmon said, explaining that "some people in office are weaker than others."

He pleaded with Arkansas Republicans to ignore inner strife and work together to build a stronger GOP.

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — A Southern Baptist evangelist will preach at a Roman Catholic college next week, thanks to a Jew.

The evangelist is Billy Graham. The Jew is Harry Golden. Golden, author and lecturer, introduced Graham to the head of Belmont Abbey College at Belmont, N.C. The invitation followed.

The sermon will be Graham's first before a Roman Catholic body.

"I think," said Graham, "that it is evidence of the ecumenical (Christian unity) spirit in the world today."

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, Episcopal bishop of California, says the main barrier to unity between the Episcopal and Roman Catholic churches is the Catholic doctrine of papal infallibility.

He added in a speech at St. John's Seminary that he can see no solution to the impasse.

But, Bishop Pike told the Catholic seminarians: "If unity ever arrives, we can use some priests in our parish."

35 Fires in State Wednesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thirty-five fires burned 294 acres in Arkansas Wednesday, and the state Forestry Commission called it a light fire day.

Jim Talley of the commission's Fire Control Division said abating winds aided the fire-fight, and he looked for clam winds today.

Wind-driven fires were extremely hard to handle Tuesday, Talley said, and destroyed 1,071 acres of timber and grass.

State Forester Fred Lang said Wednesday that the return of cold weather created a new fire hazard — when school children waiting on a school bus built fires to keep warm.

U.S. to Sell Land at Hot Springs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department proposes to sell nine tracts of land in Hot Springs National Park on which bathroom concessions are located.

Sen. Alan Bible, D-Nev., a member of the Senate Interior Committee, has introduced a bill in the Senate, but no hearings have been scheduled by the committee.

Rep. Wayne N. Aspinall, D-Colo., chairman of the House Interior Committee, said he intends to introduce the bill in the House soon.

The proposed legislation would authorize sale of the bathroom concessions at a fair market value less the value of improvements paid for by the concessionaries.

It would also convey to Hot Springs the sidewalks and other municipal facilities adjoining the bathroom tracts, excluded from the park. But the secretary would reserve easements and rights of way necessary for park use.

A period of two years would be provided within which a concessionaire might accept the proposal. Thereafter the property would be declared surplus and disposed of.

Miller-Burke Exchange Vows

The marriage of Miss Frances Kaye Burke and John Thomas Miller, Jr. both of Houston was solemnized at 8 p.m. Friday, October 25 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Willis, sister and brother-in-law of the bride.

The Rev. Buford E. Cain, pastor of the Easthaven Baptist Church of Houston, performed the double-ring ceremony before a background of baskets of white gladioli and greenery.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burk of Hope and the groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Miller, Sr. of Lovelace, Texas.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. O. W. Coleman played the traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of ice blue brocade and satin. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a tiara of seed pearl. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid with a purple and yellow throat.

Mrs. Thomas Burke of Little Rock, sister-in-law of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a street length light beige dress with matching accessories and a white carnation corsage.

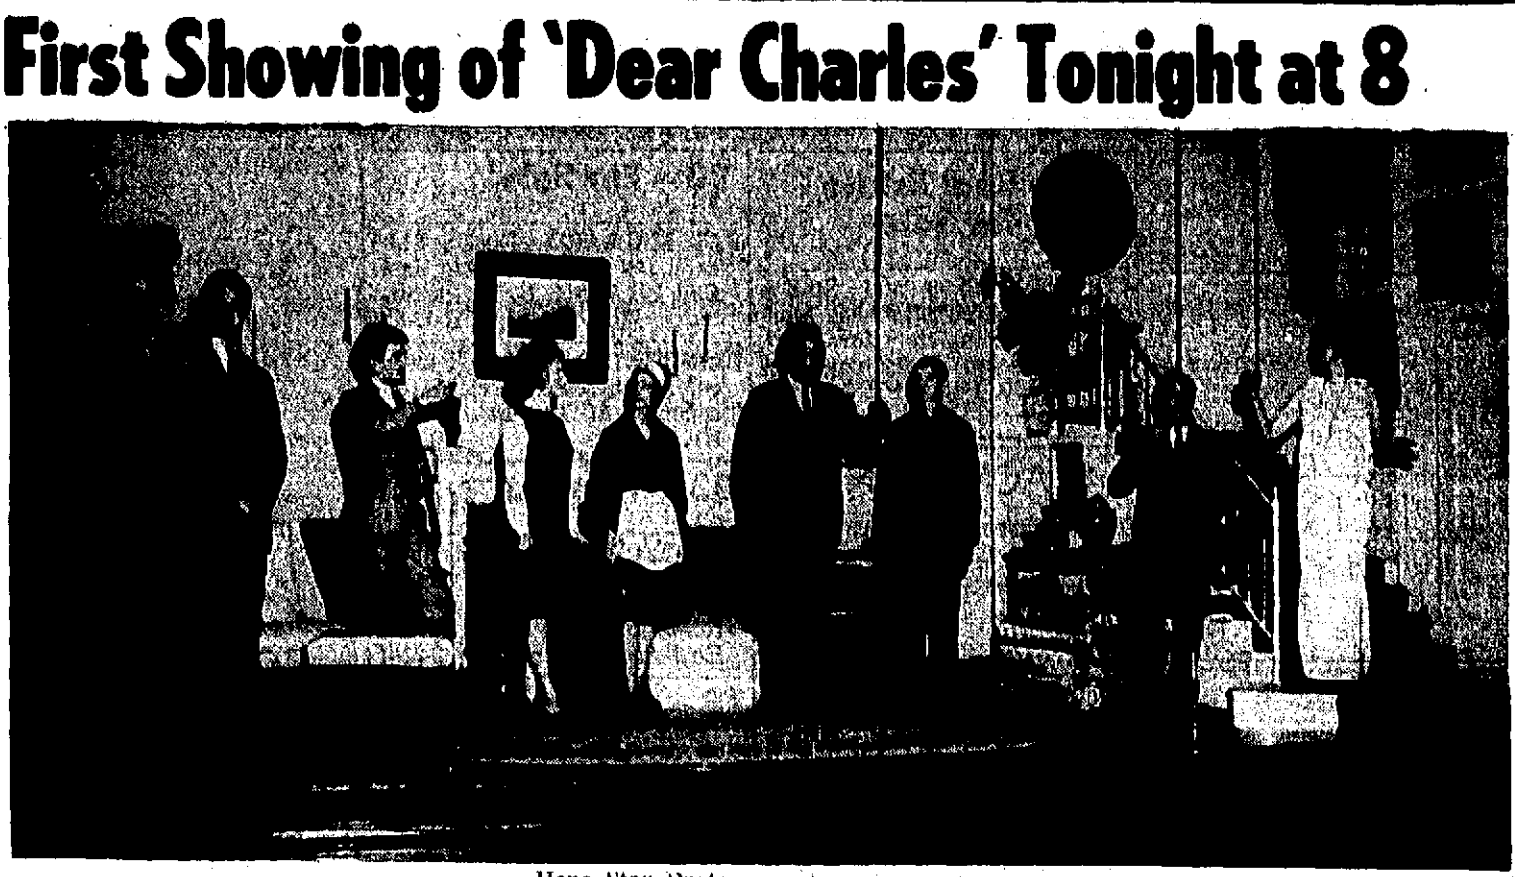

Roy Robertson served as best man.

Mrs. Burke, mother of the bride, wore a royal blue crepe dress, with Navy accessories and had a white carnations corsage.

A reception in the home followed the ceremony. A tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and the groom was served by Mrs. Herbert Willis, sister of the bride. Mrs. C. C. Williams poured the punch.

Mrs. Miller is a 1960 graduate of Hope High School and graduate of Massey's Business College of Houston. Her husband, John, is a graduate of Pearson's Chapel High School in Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller are employed by Industrial Towel and Uniform Co. of Houston. He is a sales supervisor. After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Houston.

U.S. Resumes Aid to Viet Nam

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The United States has agreed to resume full economic aid to Viet Nam's new revolutionary government, a U.S. Embassy official said today.

Economic aid has been tapered off in the last weeks of the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem in an attempt to force a more liberal policy. Military aid which made up the bulk of U.S. assistance to Viet Nam was continued.

The embassy official said the

Waist Line Loose in New Design

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — American fashion's little French girl, Pauline Trigere, Wednesday introduced a spring collection as independent as Charles de Gaulle himself.

Not at all concerned that other American designers are nipping in waistslines again for spring, Miss Trigere created a soft silhouette that "allows a woman to have a martini or a dessert now and then."

Close to shoulders and bust, the fabric hovers but does not get too close to the middle. However, the crisp silks, chiffons and linens are slim at the hips.

While other American designers are plunging necklines to blushing depths, Miss Trigere has bared backs of dresses worn under short capes and sleeveless blouses on jackets called cabouchons.

Even short party dresses were strapless and bareback but not immodest in front. Formal ball gowns covered neck to ankle, and, cut on the bias, looked as comfortable as old bathrobes.

Not all of Miss Trigere's costumes ignored the waistline, though. White kid belts girdled the young models' middles, setting off white knit dickeys and lake blouse cuffs.

Three Tigers Are Climbing Statistically

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ouachita College's recent victory surge has sent three Tigers upward in Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference football statistics.

Quarterback Frank Spainhour has climbed into third in passing with 567 yards on 34 completions. He has thrown for nine touchdowns, a league high.

End Jack Mills has caught 19 of Spainhour's tosses for 233 yards and five touchdowns to rank second in pass receiving.

Fullback Robert McGlothlin has moved into a tie for second in scoring with 37 points. State Teachers' Bobby Tiner also has 37.

Ronnie Higgins, Arkansas A&M fullback, is tops in rushing with 581 yards, and in scoring, with 61 points. Bill Grubbs of Teachers leads in punt returns with a 12.9-yard average and in kickoff returns with a 26.2-yard average.

Southern State's Jim Leonard is the top punter with a 38.8-yard average per kick.

Can't Compete in the Playoffs

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Northwestern Illinois University, winner of its nine football games this season, won't be able to compete in the NAIA championship playoffs.

The NAIA said the Illinois State Teachers College board of control and the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference had put a ban on football competition after the Thanksgiving weekend.

Cold Mass Moves Into Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A cold Canadian air mass settled slowly over Arkansas Wednesday night bringing to Arkansas today weather that was, in a word - cold.

Clear skies and topographic influences helped bring the lowest readings of the season in most Arkansas communities.

The temperature dropped to 13 degrees at Gilbert. Other points with below 20-degree weather included Fayetteville, 15, Batesville 19 and Beaver 18. The 20-degree mark at Fort Smith nearly equaled a 23-year-old record low of 19.

Elsewhere in the state the temperatures were mostly in the 20s. Highs Wednesday were in the 40s north and 50s south.

An eastward drift of the Canadian mass will allow some warming in western Arkansas.

Brazil Fails to Slow U.S. Proposal

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ Associated Press Staff Writer
SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—A U.S.-backed proposal to give Latin Americans greater responsibility in directing the Alliance for Progress apparently faced smoother sailing today after general rejection of a Brazilian plan to bring in as many European contributors as possible, even the Communist bloc.

Diplomats said the Brazilian proposal won only Bolivia's support from among the 20 nations attending the Inter-American Economic and Social Council session.

The Brazilian proposal apparently was intended to torpedo the U.S.-backed plan to create a seven-nation coordinating committee to pass on aid projects and give Latin Americans more influence in over-all control of the multibillion-dollar economic and social development program.

The Brazilians reportedly had still another maneuver in reserve. Informants said Brazil has indicated that if the seven-nation committee is approved, it will insist that the action be ratified by the congress of each member nation. This could delay formation of the committee for several years.

The Brazilians argued that the seven-nation committee would only impede the aid program by increasing red tape. But many delegates agreed that Brazil's opposition was based on the feeling that she would be reduced to the level of other nations applying for aid funds and that a mostly Latin-American committee would be less sensitive to political considerations than the United States has been.

U.S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman, the head of the American delegation, placed U.S. support firmly behind the proposed committee.

but cooler temperatures are indicated for east Arkansas tonight.

Sunny skies will take some of the bite out of light to moderate winds today and Friday. Little or no precipitation is expected through Saturday.

The forecast calls for fair and not so cold today and tonight. High today near 55 with light and variable winds. Low tonight around 32.

Plummerville Grant

WASHINGTON (AP)—Approval of a $32,000 grant to help Plummerville, Ark., finance construction of a $66,700 sewer project was announced Wednesday by the Community Facilities Administration.

He said if the program to accelerate Latin-America's economic growth is lagging, it is largely Latin America's fault.

Harriman said that since the Alliance for Progress was launched 27 months ago, the United States has poured out $2.3 billion.

Smackover and Magnolia Are Picked to Win

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

And then there were just two Big Ten Conference foes left in Pine Bluff's path to a second straight football title, and Little Rock Central is on the spot this week.

Next week's it's Hot Springs. But Central is this week, and, as the coaches say, they play them one at a time.

The Zebras are unbeaten, ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press Arkansas high school football poll, are atop the Big Ten standings and are defending league champions.

So do you pick against them? No, sir, you don't.

PINE BLUFF 20, Little Rock Central 6. Offensively, the Tigers are impotent. Defensively, they've been good at times, but not good enough in three losses. Pine Bluff has it all.

TEXARKANA 14, Blytheville 7. Injuries left the Chicks crippled last week, and El Dorado dropped them. Texarkana is stronger, and should follow the Wildcats' example.

FORT SMITH 13, North Little Rock 6. They both beat Central by 6-0, but not the same way.

EL DORADO 14, Hot Springs 0. Arky Floyd rides again.

LITTLE ROCK HALL 21, Jonesboro 7. It's the last chance for Jonesboro to win a Big Ten game this year, but the Warriors have some face-saving to do, too.

Now, the Class AA games: Fayetteville 7, Springfield, Mo., Parkview 6. The Bulldogs can play this open on even terms.

Van Buren 14, Harrison 0. Van Buren has looked best outside the league.

Springdale 22, Huntsville 6. No problem.

Russellville 12, Subiaco 7. A breather for the Cyclone.

West Memphis 7, Forrest City 6. For the Region 2AA crown.

Helena 14, Jacksonville 13. Just because it's at Helena.

Stuttgart 20, Newport 6. The Greyhounds are still looking for a victory.

Paragould 13, Wynne 6. The Greene County boys need this one for third in the region.

Benton 13, Conway 12. Benton should win, but J. D. Pendergraft and his Wampus Cat friends can't be short changed.

Little Rock Catholic 20, Mablevale 0. No. 6 in a row.

Morrilton 13, Heber Springs 12. And it shouldn't be easy.

Searcy 12, Sylvan Hills 7. A tough one for the Lions.

Magnolia 20, Camden 6. The Panthers haven't one in league play.

Crossett 7, Fairview 6. The Cardinals took a shellacking last week, and the Eagles should squeeze through.

Smackover 16, Malvern 14. To the better defense.

Simmons Tops

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — John Simmons, Tulsa end who was the second leading collegiate pass catcher in the nation last year, signed a contract Wednesday with the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League.

Steeler Is National Star Player

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Schmitz, known as the "quiet man" of the Pittsburgh Steelers, seldom makes the headlines. The Steelers' press book describes the linebacker as the "steady, unspectacular type who always is available and who always gives full effort."

Schmitz was very much Mr. Available last Sunday when he broke through and smothered Jimmy Brown in the end zone for a safety that proved the difference in a 9-7 game, won by Pittsburgh.

As a result of this effort, Schmitz was selected "Player of the Week" in the National Football League by the Associated Press on a day when linebackers excelled.

Sam Huff and Jerry Hill, brand, New York Giant linebackers, intercepted Philadelphia passes in the Giants' 42-14 rout of the Eagles. An Eagle linebacker, Lee Ry Caffey, a rookie from Texas A&M, turned in one of the most spectacular runs when he romped 87 yards after intercepting a Glynn Griffith pass.

Roger Leclerc, a spare linebacker whose main job is to kick field goals, booted two for the Chicago Bears of 30 and 16 yards in the Bears' 6-0 victory over Los Angeles. Linebacker Jack Pardee of the Rams blocked a field goal try by Leclerc in the last minute. The Bears' rush line gave Roman Gabriel a rough afternoon.

Larry Stallings, a rookie linebacker with the St. Louis Cardinals, fell on the ball after a punt touched Washington's Bobby Mitchell and rolled to the Cardinals' 14. It led to the last Card TD in a 24-20 victory.

Duke's Jay Wilkinson, son of the Oklahoma coach, moved into a contending position with three touchdowns against Wake Forest. Wilkinson has 60 points and is tied for third with Dave Casinelli of Memphis State, Ken Waldrop of Army and Jay Cunningham of Bowling Green.

Billy Lothridge, of Georgia Tech fell from second to seventh place at 58 points, but he booted his 11th field goal of the season and now is only two short of the single season record of 13 set by Ed Dwyer of Auburn. The three-pointer also was the 20th of Lothridge's career, an all-time record.

Coach Places Rap on the Goalie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Punch Imlach pointed his finger at goalie Johnny Bower.

"He blew it," said the irate coach of the Toronto Maple Leafs after the Leafs had played a 2-2 tie with the Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League Wednesday night.

Imlach put the rap on Bower because the Canadiens scored both their goals in the second period even though one of their players was in the penalty box at the time.

The first-place Chicago Black Hawks piled up a 4-0 lead then stayed off a late Boston rally to beat the Bruins 6-4 in Wednesday's other scheduled NHL game.

Wilson to Start for Patriots

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Eddie Wilson will replace Len Dawson as starting quarterback for the Kansas City Chiefs in their game with the Boston Patriots Sunday, the Kansas City Star said today.

Marshall Will Start at SMU

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Fred Marshall will start at quarterback for Arkansas when the Razorbacks meet Southern Methodist in Dallas, Tex., Saturday.

Coach Frank Broyles gave no explanation for changing from sophomore Jon Brittenum to Marshall, but the junior from Memphis, Tenn., showed well in Arkansas' losing effort against Rice last week and Brittenum has been slowed by injury.

The Porkers worked in sweat clothes for one hour, 40 minutes Wednesday. Broyles said Arkansas' reaction to SMU plays had improved a little.

Tommy Moore, Jim John and Gary Howard are Arkansas captains for the SMU game.

I Boys Take Over in Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — The I boys have taken over in the major college football individual scoring race.

Cosmo Iacavazzi, Princeton's barreling fullback, retained the lead by scoring the Tigers' only touchdown in last Saturday's loss to Harvard. Terry Isaacson, Air Force Academy quarterback, closed in as Iacavazzi's new challenger by scoring 20 points in the Falcons' rout of UCLA.

The weekly statistics from the NCAA Service Bureau showed today that Iacavazzi has 72 points on 12 touchdowns. Isaacson, with three touchdowns and a two-point conversion, moved into second place with 62. Each has two games to play.

Duke's Jay Wilkinson, son of the Oklahoma coach, moved into a contending position with three touchdowns against Wake Forest. Wilkinson has 60 points and is tied for third with Dave Casinelli of Memphis State, Ken Waldrop of Army and Jay Cunningham of Bowling Green.

Alworth Named Player of Week in AL Loop

NEW YORK (AP) — Lance Alworth, former University of Arkansas star halfback, is this week's Associated Press Player of the Week in the American Football League.

He got the designation for his performance in San Diego's 7-6 victory over Boston in which he caught a 27-yard screen pass from Robin Rote for the Chargers' only touchdown.

And it was Alworth's 13th pass catch — tying the AFL record.

Rote, a veteran of 13 years in pro football, calls Alworth "the greatest receiver I've ever seen."

"He's got everything — speed, the ability to stop dead and come back," Rote said. "He can jump with the best of them and he has great hands."

So far this season, Lance has carried the ball 46 times for 968 yards and is only five yards behind the co-leaders, Buffalo's Bill Miller and Oakland's Art Powell.

Alworth missed the last 10 games last year due to a torn leg muscle. But it hasn't bothered him this year.

Halas Knows Everything Going on

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Across the street to the north of Wrigley Field is a three-story apartment house. The top windows afford an excellent view of the playing area.

From one of these windows Wednesday, a blue curtain could be seen moving. Then appeared the nose of a camera.

It aimed directly down to the field where George Halas was exhorting his Chicago Bears through a series of pass patterns for use against Green Bay Sunday.

Could this be one of sports' greatest moments of intrigue? Was there a Packer spy up there getting pictures to rush back to Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi?

By this time, the keen eyes of the Bear players—sharpened to watch for those Green Bay passes and for those shooting-star runners here Sunday—caught the movement in the window.

Some of them stood looking up at the window.

Halas started fuming.

"What the hell's going on here?" he yelled. "You guys get back to work. We've got the big game coming up and here you stand around looking at a window like somebody is peeking at you in the showers."

"I know who's up there in that window. I know just about everything that's going on around here. Just ask me—I'll tell you. It's a press photographer. That's who. He thinks he's taking pictures of a secret drill."

"Now see. That guy's left the window. There's nothing to look at but me."

"And I know I look damn mad enough to scare you all back to work. We got a big one ahead of us!"

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Ton money of $113,570 in the 1963 NASCAR racing season was collected by Fred Lorenzen, Elmhurst, Ill.

The rest is history. Perini moved his Braves' franchise to Milwaukee the following March and the Braves set a National League attendance record of 1,807,526.

Defense Is Word in Pro Basketball

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

It looks like Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics stopped about 4,300 points before the season even started.

That's the number of points that won't go on the scoreboard, if the National Basketball Association teams continue to play at their current reduced, or Russell, rate.

Defense is the word around the league, and Russell is the reason. The nine NBA teams are averaging some six points less per game this year—that's at least 4,300 over the long season.

Russell, who was feeling so badly he couldn't even get sick before the game—his normal procedure — played all 48 minutes, took 31 rebounds and blocked enough shots to ensure a 114-110 victory for the Celtics over the Lakers Wednesday night, at Madison Square Garden.

That ran the Celtic record for the season to 10-1. The Lakers, held on to the top spot in the West with a 7-6 mark.

The revitalized New York Knicks sneaked into third place in the East with a 106-102 victory over the St. Louis Hawks in the second game of the Garden doubleheader.

The San Francisco Warriors, with Wilt Chamberlain collecting exactly half their points, edged the Cincinnati Royals at Cincinnati 98-92, in another of the league's new low-scoring games.

The other teams were idle.

Will Break Ties With Coin Flip

NEW YORK (AP) — In case of a tie or several ties for first place in the two divisions of the National Football League, the sites and opponents will be decided by flips of a coin.

Jim Kensil, public relations director of the NFL, said Wednesday that all teams with a mathematical chance for a division title would meet at Commissioner Pete Rozelle's office in New York. This conference usually is held in the last week in November.

Bullets Moving Proved Costly

NEW YORK (AP) — The Baltimore Bullets got a cut in their moving bill, but it still cost them $5,000 to get out of Chicago.

The Board of Governors of the National Basketball Association reduced a $25,000 fine against the Bullets to $5,000 at its meeting Wednesday.

The fine was slapped on the team because it made arrangements to move out of Chicago without getting league permission, and in violation of an agreement to stay in Chicago for three years.

Yogi Declares He Feels Like a Rookie

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra confesses he feels like a rookie all over again as he waits — with understandable impatience — for the 1964 spring training season to open.

"I can't wait for it to start," said the new manager of the New York Yankees. "I keep thinking about it all the time. I get butterflies in my stomach just thinking about it. I don't like having so much time to think about it. When you're in action, you don't have time to worry."

Did Yogi mean he was a little scared at the thought of managing what through the years has been the most powerful club in baseball? The word "scared" brought a slight reddening to Yogi's cheeks.

"Scared?" he repeated. "If I was scared do you think I would have taken a one-year contract? I coulda had two years but I turned it down."

Did he have any doubts about his ability to manage?

"I think I can manage but of course I've got to prove it not only to myself but to others," he replied.

Berra made his first official move as Yankee manager Tuesday when he announced the signing of Jimmy Gleeson as first base coach. Gleeson, a major league outfielder some 20 years ago, was Yogi's baseball coach in the Navy.

Turning to the team and its needs for 1964, Berra said he felt the Yankees were strong enough to win the American League pennant without any changes in personnel.

"We're strong every place," he said. "The pitching should be better because of the year's experience gained by the younger fellows. We've got a good bench, too."

"We can use another outfielder and a catcher. I'm gonna give Jake Gibbs a shot at the second or third-string catching job. And I want to look at this kid Jimenez (rookie outfielder Elvio Jimenez, brother of Kansas City outfielder Manny Jimenez)."

Public Poll Forces Rocky to Be Modest

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two kinds of hope are New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's main provisions as he starts his long march in search of the Republican presidential nomination.

After officially announcing his candidacy last week he spoke with a modesty forced upon him by the public opinion polls which put his rival, Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater, far ahead.

"I know," he said, "that at the present time I am the underdog in the polls." This week, for no apparent reason, he seemed a little more optimistic, reportedly giving himself a 50-50 chance.

A man in that position needs a double hope to sustain him: 1. This is the typical politician's belief he has a special magic which will enchant the voters eventually.

2. The chance that Goldwater, once the campaign forces him to spell out his position, will fall flat on his face in a trap of his own making.

Rockefeller is far more liberal than Goldwater. He can hope his views, when laid before the primary voters, will prove more attractive, despite the polls.

Goldwater has had it easy so far, since he hasn't officially declared himself a candidate. He has been able to speak in generalities, offering what look like simple solutions without dwelling on consequences.

When he gets into the campaign with Rockefeller challenging him to be specific, generalities won't be good enough. He has the right-wing Republicans in his pocket. He needs more than them to get the nomination.

If he begins switching positions or tries to hit some middle ground, in order to be persuasive to all sides, he will jeopardize himself with both.

President Kennedy dryly remarked that while it is possible Goldwater will get the nomination it will "Test his endurance and his agility."

Goldwater has said the Tennessee Valley Authority should be sold to private enterprise. This can hardly please all Republicans in the valley since some undoubtedly feel they have benefited from TVA.

Nor has he always been consistent. Last February he said that if war is necessary to get rid of the "cancer" of Communism in Cuba, "Let it mean war."

But last September he was saying: Leave it up to the Cuban exiles to take back their homeland; American troops shouldn't get involved.

He has denied he is heading on conservatism. He said "consistency is not necessarily a virtue. But I haven't changed my stand on any fundamental issues and I don't intend to."

But Goldwater has said: "Of course, I think there would be something wrong with any man in public life who didn't change some of his ideas to meet the developments of time."

In 1959, when Rockefeller was dreaming of the 1960 nomination but Richard M. Nixon appeared to have it all locked up, Rockefeller backed out fast.

He could afford to wait for the next go-round in 1964. If he could stay in the public eye by being re-elected governor—as he was—he could try again.

There was no public reaction to handicap him—except perhaps, for political reasons—as there is now because of his remarriage. This may be his last chance at the White House.

If the reaction against him because of his remarriage is truly deep—he'll get a chance to find out in the primaries—it may be enough to make this his last term as governor and knock him out of public life.

With Rockefeller it's now or perhaps never.

Struggle of Civil Rights Top Story

By JOE MCGOWAN JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) —

The civil rights struggle has become the major news event in the United States and will be the continuing "Big Story" for years to come, The Associated Press Managing Editors Association was told today.

Mason Walsh, managing editor of the Phoenix Gazette, and APME president, told the editors they were seeing a crisis in human relationships.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, announced candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, was to address the editors at a luncheon today.

Walsh reviewed news events since the convention last September in Minneapolis, including the Cuban missile crisis last October.

"We—and the rest of human kind—have had to live since with the continuing crisis, not only in Cuba, but in many more and festering spots elsewhere on the face of the earth—in Viet Nam, Berlin, Africa, China, Latin America," Walsh said.

Calorie-Trimmed Cranberry Treat

Festive fare on traditional Thanksgiving Day dinner tables will spell ruin to many a dieting plan. With a little calorie curbing in the kitchen, however, calorie-wise cooks can turn out calorie-streamlined versions of favorite holiday foods, every bit as delicious as their high-calorie counterparts.

The delightful Spiced Cranberry Salad, shown here, is an example of some of the good and low-calorie treats that weight watchers will be enjoying at this year's Thanksgiving Day feast. Sweetened with the calorie-free sweetener, Sucaryl, rather than with sugar, this pineapple-studded cranberry salad costs the dieter a mere 35 calories per serving, a saving of nearly 100 calories over the original. Best of all, everyone at the table, weight watching or not, will be delighted with this delectably sweet and spicy holiday treat.

Spiced Cranberry Salad (Low-Calorie)
2 envelopes (or tablespoons) unflavored gelatin
1 8 1/4-ounce can Sucaryl-sweetened pineapple tidbits
2 cups raw cranberries
2 1/2 cups water
2 tablespoons Sucaryl solution
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cloves

Soften gelatin in liquid drained from pineapple. Combine cranberries and water; cook until skins pop; force through food mill. Add to softened gelatin, stirring to dissolve. Add Sucaryl, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves, blending well. Refrigerate until mixture begins to thicken. Place drained pineapple tidbits in bottom of a 1-quart mold. Add thickened cranberry gelatin. Chill until set. Unmold and garnish with slices of pineapple, if desired.

wounds and the gravest infections which have developed within the past year have been right here in our own country.

"For the racial turmoil, in North and South, in mansions and in hovels, in countinghouse and in church, has slashed new wounds and reopening old scars.

"The Big Story for us, as newsmen, is: How are we going to handle that Big Story?"

Walsh said every aspect of Racial turmoil is loaded with emotion, but news coverage must be as unemotional as humanly possible.

"We may not like to admit it, but our readers' thinking and actions are strongly influenced by the way we handle news," he said.

"We have to report this story. But we have to be careful of the words we use. More than any other story... this one must not be plastered with biased labels and weighted down with generalities."

Walsh also said:

1. News management began a long time before the present national administration and will continue. Reporters must resist barriers to information and efforts to control news at every level of government.

2. Journalism professors and newsroom editors need to get closer together in the training and use of personnel.

3. APME, through its continuing study work, does more for the betterment of American

Cotton Harvest Almost Complete

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas cotton harvest is 90 per cent complete, the Agricultural Marketing Service said today.

E. R. McInnis, office manager, said rains over most of the growing territory slowed the cotton harvest early last week, but hand and mechanical pickers were back in the field by Thursday.

Farmers continued to pay hand labor from $2.50 to $3.50 per hundred pounds.

A few gins have closed for the season, McInnis said. Others operate only on special days.

The demand for spot cotton was down in the central markets of the state and interest centered around strict low middling - plus and lower grades. Cottonseed prices were up slightly, with ginners paying from $50 to $56 per ton.

Happy Holiday Pudding!

The holidays are a merry time, and never merrier than the moment a marvelous plum pudding comes to the festive table. This ancient English custom is a pleasant one, for who does not enjoy the wonderful aroma of the pudding—and the handsome sight it makes on the platter? Our version is a new way with an old favorite. It derives much of its wonderful flavor from unsulphured molasses—the kind with the most mellow possible taste. Another modern note is the use of chopped Brazil nuts. These sweet, delicate nuts add superb texture and flavor. All during the holiday season, molasses and Brazil nuts help to provide the most memorable of steamed puddings.

Molasses Brazil Nut Pudding
1/2 cup unsulphured molasses
1/2 cup orange juice
1 1/2 cups seedless raisins
1/2 cup diced citron
1 apple, peeled and chopped
1 tablespoon ground orange rind
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup chopped Brazil nuts
1/2 cup (2 ounces) grated suet
3/4 cup dry bread crumbs
1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon each, salt and cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon each, allspice and ground cloves

Combine unsulphured molasses and orange juice; pour over raisins, citron, apple and orange rind; let stand 1 hour. Add eggs to molasses mixture; stir in Brazil nuts, suet and bread crumbs. Sift in remaining ingredients; blend well. Turn into a greased 2-quart pudding mold with tight-fitting cover. Or cover with aluminum foil, tie securely. Place on rack in deep kettle; pour in boiling water to half the depth of the mold. Cover; steam 5 hours, adding more boiling water during steaming if necessary. Serve warm with softened ice cream or pudding sauce. Yield: 12 servings.

Gathings Is Looking Into Subsidies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark., is gathering information to refute charges of a colleague that large growers are receiving most of the subsidy for cotton sold on the world market.

A House debate on the controversial bill to end a two-price system for cotton is scheduled in December.

Rep. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga., charged last month in a speech for the Congressional Record that big growers were getting the bulk of a $42.50 a bale subsidy on cotton production.

He said the world price for cotton is 24 cents a pound and the government supports a 32½ cent domestic price with an 8½ cent a pound subsidy. He said this amounts to the $42.50 a bale figure.

Weltner named the big growers by state, gave their 1961 production records and presented figures which he said was the subsidy they received.

Gathings contended that Weltner's figures were based on total cotton production instead of that sold on the world market—the only cotton which was actually subsidized.

Gathings maintained that most of the cotton produced in the U.S. by both large and small growers was used in the domestic market and cost the government nothing in the way of subsidies.

Gathings is asking the big cotton producers in his district how much cotton they moved on the world market to find out how much of their cotton was actually subsidized.

The cotton bill would allow domestic textile mills to buy U.S. cotton at world prices with a domestic subsidy to the producers.

Opponents contend the only way to eliminate a two-price system is to lower the support price to nearer the world price level.

They also maintain the bill would mean a third subsidy on cotton.

Wynne Approves Airport Bonds

WYNNE, Ark. (AP)—Wynne voters approved 310 to 11 Tuesday a one-mill tax for a $37,000 bond issue to help finance construction of a municipal airport.

The city's share of the estimated $103,000 cost of the airport will be $19,750. The rest will be provided by a $53,250 Federal Aviation Agency grant and a $30,000 gift by the Halstead Metal Products Co. of Wynne.

Actually the city taxes will go down. All outstanding bonds will be retired and new bonds will be issued for the airport. Wynne now assesses 9 of a possible 14 mills. Total assessment for the airport will be seven mills.

From all three sources the city will get $120,250. The rest of the money will be used to build a hangar and a building for public use.

Girl Who Lost Leg Gets Many Gifts

CLEVELAND (AP) — Christine Simko, 14, whose right leg was amputated Monday because of a malignant tumor which threatened her life, is being deluged with mail, flowers and gifts.

Metropolitan General Hospital listed her in fair condition Tuesday night. Hundreds of telephone inquiries continue to flow into the hospital switchboard. A hospital spokesman said Christine, daughter of Mrs. Lily Simko, may be able to receive visitors on a limited basis in a few days.

Episcopals Set Up Latin Mission

By JOHN R. STARR
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Creation of a new missionary district in the South American republic of Colombia was announced today at a meeting of the House of Bishops of the Episcopal Church.

The decision to remove Colombia from jurisdiction of the bishops of the Panama Canal Zone was reached in executive session Tuesday night. Another decision reached Tuesday night and announced today was appointment of two new suffragan (assistant) bishops in the Missionary Diocese of Mexico.

A Bishop of Colombia and the two Mexican assistant bishops will be elected in executive session during this meeting. Their names will be announced at the end of the meeting Friday.

The House of Bishops spent its first two sessions Wednesday and Wednesday night clearing its agenda of various administrative matters so that it can turn to discussion of the principal purpose of this special meeting — church unity and the role of the Episcopal church in the world.

Bishop J. Thomas Heistand, Bishop of Harrisburg, (Pa.) said in an interview he detected a determination among his fellow bishops to make progress at this meeting toward a definitive statement on the church's position toward the ecumenical movement.

However, Bishop Charles J. Kingsolving III, Bishop of New Mexico and southwest Texas, told The Associated Press, "Whether a hard and fast statement about unity can come out of a three-day meeting is something that I'm a little doubtful about."

Bishop Nelson Burroughs, Bishop of Ohio and chairman of the House, predicted at a news conference Monday that a major statement of policy would come out of this meeting. He said today prospects are still promising.

The bishops prepared to meet in several special sessions, which were not originally scheduled, in order to get all their work done. All the discussions on unity and the church-world issue will be in executive session and no statements will be issued until Friday.

The bishops heard today three papers on unity and then split into five groups to discuss the

Ann Kenyon: Surgeon

By Adeline McElfresh

(Distributed by Newspaper Enterprise Assn. © 1960 Adeline McElfresh)

THE STORY: Dr. Peter McDonnell and Dr. Emerson Lyle are again having a serious disagreement.

VI
"After all, I knew nothing of the sort," Dr. Lyle retorted mildly. "I'm a bit surprised at you, Peter, confusing an epileptic seizure with withdrawal."

Davis Clyde whistled, not quite under his breath. Ignoring him, as he had ignored Ann from the moment he had entered, Dr. Lyle continued. "The girl is an epileptic. That's what brought about premature labor. She fell during a seizure."

Ann wanted to cry out that it wasn't true, that the syndrome Dr. Mabis and Dave Clyde had described were those of withdrawal from a narcotic, but something in Peter McDonnell's face stopped her. "I think you are wrong, Em," he said. "I think the autopsy will show the child was a mild addict through placental contact with the mother."

Memorial's lab was the size of a cupboard by comparison, manned by a lone technician who did only strictly routine tests while tissue specimens and the more complicated tests were sent to the pathologist at City Hospital in Howell. Ann was frowning to herself, suspicion that had sprouted into her mind when Dr. Lyle said, "There is no call for an autopsy, Peter. The child died in a seizure. The mother has epilepsy. Why make a production out of it?"

"You have her medical history?"

"I have her word."

Dr. McDonnell looked skeptical and Ann thought, He doesn't believe it either. "Don't you think it's strange, Em," he put that disbelief into words, "that she didn't mention it when I took her history?"

"She isn't proud of it."

"Nevertheless, it is something a woman tells her doctor who is going to deliver her baby," Peter persisted, and Ann thought Dr. Lyle looked uncomfortable, as if he too was remembering the autopsy after the Byron baby's death. But fleetingly. His chuckle was replying as he said, "Oh, come, come, Peter. You aren't chief of staff yet. . . . With your permission, Henry," he deferred to Dr. Mabis, "I shall make arrangements to remove my patient immediately."

For someone who wished to avoid a "production," it was an unwise decision. The private ambulance from Howell hadn't cleared the hospital's long curving driveway before the grapevine, having absorbed the few meager facts through a swift osmosis all its own, already was beginning to quiver with excitement. It was Dr. Lyle's privilege to take his patient to papers.

City Hospital, she would have gone there anyhow if he had been in town when her labor began—but why the rush? Why couldn't she have remained in Leddie Memorial at least until morning? There was no sense in disturbing the whole wing. Cass Llewellyn shook her head at somebody's chart, in which she had been completing an entry when Ann paused at the nurse's station desk. "If I know this town, Dr. Kenyon, get ready to hang on to your bonnet."

Winning mentally at memory of the frenzied gale that had followed the Byron baby's death, Ann summoned a smile. "I've already hung on to one bonnet."

The nurse snapped the chart shut, returned it to its place on the rack. "Is it true you could smell camphor and anise in her room?"

"I didn't smell anything."

Ann was relieved when a light winked on and off and on, momentarily, over a door down the corridor. Whatever narcotic the woman was "on," Ann doubted that it was paregoric, which would leave a characteristic camphor - and - anise odor, but she had no intention of contributing to the talk by saying so. She went on along the shorter corridor toward the sun - porch, where she had stayed on because, luckily, the bed hadn't been needed. Now, though, she would find an apartment near the hospital, bring her things out from Rocky Head.

She would telephone Helen Leddie her acceptance first thing in the morning and see to the business of getting herself licensed to practice in Indiana. Then she would go back to Rocky Head and pack. She was going to miss working with Dr. Scotlin. And Miss Vernon, for whom she was sure Leddie Memorial had no equal.

Brill was going to say she was a fool to give up a position as an associate in surgery at Rocky Head General. In a way she was, beyond any uncertainty. Rocky Head General had everything that Leddie Memorial did not have, including a governing board that expected General to keep abreast of medical advances.

4,000 Destroy Dam in Italy

IMPERIA, Italy (AP) — A crowd of 4,000 persons, fearing another disaster similar to the one that took 3,000 lives in the Vaiont Valley last month, stormed a dam construction site Tuesday and destroyed building equipment.

Two hundred policemen made no move to interfere. The residents of five villages have been living in fear since construction began on a 280-foot hydroelectric power dam.

Crops Well Into the Fall Harvest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Crops have moved well into the harvest stage with the volume holding at a record level, just as forecast a month ago by the Agriculture Department.

The department's November crop report said October weather favored full development and rapid harvest of most crops, with corn, cotton, sorghum, grain, rice and tobacco showing small increases. Dry weather in the South cut slightly into soybean and peanut crops.

The crop volume was estimated to be 10 per cent above the average for the 1957-59 period, compared with the record of 8 per cent above set in 1960 and matched last year.

Corn features this year's crop

It appears that livestock feed grain production will be about 153 million tons, about 2.5 million tons less than expected needs.

When Good Friends Get Together

Company coming? It's the time of year for friendly get-togethers before the theater, after the game, and for just plain "old time" sake.

A buffet supper featuring a hearty main dish is the perfect answer for any and all of these occasions. And because chicken is so universally popular, it's an ideal choice, especially when cooked in a "soupier" sauce.

Try a tempting combination of canned condensed Cheddar cheese soup and Burgundy. Then, serve this delicious entree over apple and nut studded rice. It will captivate your guests.

To go along a tossed green salad... crisp lettuce, escarole, and cucumber slices with a favorite dressing. A light airy chiffon cake and hot coffee complete the menu.

This serves 8 just right for the buffet.

2 cans (11 ounces each) condensed Cheddar cheese soup

Deer Valley Crashes Are on Purpose

By ROBERT K. WALKER

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Ten large military helicopters have crashed at the Deer Valley Airport north of Phoenix in the past three years.

Within six months, two four-engine transports probably will smash into a nearby mountain-side.

Neither poor pilots, faulty aircraft nor sabotage is to blame. It's done on purpose by the Aviation Safety Engineering and Research Division of Flight Safety Foundation, Inc. The object is to find out what causes injuries in aircraft crashes, and to test equipment designed to minimize such injuries.

The division began crashing helicopters in 1960 under a contract with the U.S. Army Transportation Research Command. The experiment with transports, tentatively scheduled for February and March, will be done under contract from the Federal Aviation Agency.

"The aircraft we are crashing are obsolete and on their way to the junk yard," says division manager Victor E. Rothe. "We have to dig up parts to make some of them work."

Rothe says that information gathered from the tests has resulted in safety modifications for helicopters being flown in South Viet Nam.

Inside the helicopters are instruments, dummies, standard equipment and experimental devices designed by the division. Manufacturers also may have

Cuba Calling More for Army Duty

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

HAVANA (AP)—Defense Minister Raul Castro outlined a new conscription Tuesday night under which all men 17 to 45 would be called up for a three-year period. He said all women from 17 to 35 could volunteer for two years of service.

"All bums and other trash will be drafted into special units where they will receive political instruction," he said in explaining the law to a meeting. They will then be transferred to regular units according to their "progress," Raul said.

The U.S. government has estimated Cuba's standing army at 75,000 with another 150,000 in a ready reserve and militia.

new designs aboard.

"Fire is the big killer in crashes," Rothe says. "If you can reduce and prevent injuries, persons have a greater chance to escape once the whole thing has come to a screeching halt."

"We feel that as long as there is living space within the aircraft, the crash is survivable. Our emphasis is in what causes injury to people in crashes. You always end up with hardware—something involved in the design of aircraft."

In addition to the tests, the organization also investigates about 30 military, private and commercial crashes each year.

The non-profit research organization began in 1942 at Cornell University. When the division moved to Phoenix in 1957 it had only a few employees. Now there are 52.

Serve New Canned Condensed Cream Of Potato Soup

More than 130 years after Sir Francis Drake and Sir Walter Raleigh who, it's said, carried the potato from this country to Ireland, it was back. Brought here by a group of Irish church people, it was the real beginning of potato growing in the United States.

Today, potato growers produce over 27 billion pounds a year. Not all of these, however, will be eaten as such. A good portion will go into processed foods like the brand new canned condensed cream of potato soup.

... it's delicately seasoned and spiced. Ready to serve in just 4 minutes, this savory new soup will be delightful for lunch or supper. You'll like canned condensed cream of potato soup prepared according to label directions or for an extra special treat try this:

Potato Soup Smitane
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed cream of potato soup
1 cup water
1/4 cup sour cream
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon paprika
In saucepan, combine all ingredients. Heat, stirring now and then. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

ASC Controls Methods of Elections

ASH FLAT, Ark. (AP)—The Department of Agriculture told the Sharp County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee Tuesday that the state ASC committee has the right to set election methods.

Sharp County Chairman J. T. Orr of Ash Flat said Ray V. Fitzgerald, ASC deputy administrator for state and county operations, rejected the county committee's protest against the state ASC committee decision.

On Sept. 19 the state ASC committee directed all counties in the state except Sharp to conduct the elections of ASC community representatives by mail ballot on Dec. 2. The state committee said the Sharp County election would be at polling places, not by mail.

Orr said the order was politically inspired and that the county group would file suit U.S. District Court at Little Rock to overturn it.

Fewer farmers would go to the polls to vote than would return ballots by mail, Orr said. He charged that Eagle Street of Cave City, a member of the state committee, would try to gain control of the county by getting his supporters to go all out to get their men to the polls.

Fitzgerald said the "polling place method does provide a certain degree of insurance since each person who casts a ballot must appear in person and be identified as an eligible voter."

Calamity Jane Showed Polish

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Carol Burnett, who isn't seen too often on television these days, more's the pity, romped back into sight Tuesday night in "Calamity Jane," a rowdy musical comedy.

The 90-minute CBS special was taped last summer after Carol and the company had man of the state ASC committee, denied that anyone was trying to take over the Sharp County committee.

Orr said he wouldn't mind using the polling place method if most other Arkansas counties were required to use it.

The Stone County committee is opposed to the discharge of its office manager by the state ASC committee, and Newton County's committee has filed suit in federal court charging the state committee with changing community boundaries for political reasons.

played the show a couple of weeks in a summer theater. Those weeks showed in the smoothness of the finished product, particularly in the song and dance numbers. With television's usual brief rehearsal time, musical production numbers are often ragged.

"Calamity Jane" was especially adapted to Carol's comedy and singing talents and is derived from a real character of the pioneer west—and an old movie. Some of the songs were new, and some were not, but it was nice music.

Carol played "Calamity" as a rip-snorting, gun-slugging dame in slacks and a Civil War drummer boy's cap, giving the tomboy role a little more enthusiasm than was really necessary.

She took time out from broad comedy and mugging to sing "My Secret Love" straight and sweetly. One wishes she did that sort of thing more often. She has a nice voice and is rather cute.

It was all good fun and it was nice to see Miss Burnett again.

Russia Needs More Fertilizer

MOSCOW (AP) — The Supreme Soviet, Russia's parliament, has been called to a meeting Dec. 16, apparently to ratify plans to expand production of chemical fertilizer.

The meeting will follow a meeting Dec. 9 of the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party, which normally shapes the program to be acted upon by the Supreme Soviet. The Central Committee will discuss the program to expand fertilizer production which Premier Khrushchev is pushing to expand agricultural output.

Their only TV performance will be taped next month for broadcast later.

The final name for CBS' replacement for "Glynis" is "Pictures of People." The Allen Funt effort — another candid camera type show—had a working title of "Americamera." It starts Christmas Day.

Some Facts of Life in Arkansas

By J. C. TILLMAN

On a busy day, Phil Pickle, a junior at Arkansas State College, asked his fiancée to take his car to a service station and fill it with gas.

She did, but she also registered for some prizes the firm was giving away — and won a 1958 sedan.

Word is out that Arkansas State Teachers College, since it has branched out into several fields of education, wants to change its name by dropping the word "Teachers." But that would make two Arkansas State Colleges in the state. Now what?

About six years ago, 35 striped sea bass were put in Narrows Lake.

Last week G. B. Hughes of Hope tossed a Devil's Horse in the pond and came out with one of the first of the lunkers known to be caught—a 20 pounder a yard long.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus caused something of a record to be set last Sunday when he brought the Sunday School message at the First Methodist Church at Hope. There were 434 persons present.

A youth of the Heth community near West Memphis owns what may be a "jinxed" motor scooter. Last August Bobby Baugh was riding the scooter and was hit by a car on Highway 149. Last weekend Anthony Moore and Warren Casey were on the same scooter, on the same highway, when a car struck it at the same spot.

All the youths, and the scooter survived. Its owner has never had any difficulty with it.

Agricultural oddities: The W. M. Lubekers of Route 1, Stuttgart, get "a meal per leaf" from their mustard greens. One plant grew to a diameter of more than 40 inches with the biggest leaf 16 by 24 inches. And near Russellville J. B. Sparks likes his grown the same way. He came up with one leaf 33 inches long and 22 inches wide.

"We eat them all the time," Sparks, of the Scottsville community, says.

Kim Lamberth, 13, of Jonesboro thought nothing of being assigned his room at Missouri Military Academy in Mexico, Mo. —until Gen. Clifton B. Cates, former commandant of the U.S. Marine Corps dropped in one day to visit his old quarters.

And in Lamberth's home town a couple of Arkansas State College amateur commercial artists heisted a sharp merchant in a battle of Indian eyes.

They had painted, for a football game, more than 200 of the school's "Jumpin' Joe" Indians, in a variety of sizes, shapes and positions—all for a price and all with one eye.

The particular merchant demanded his Indian with two eyes. He got it—for an extra 50 cents.

'Misfits' Designed to Be Legendary

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Some movie projects are destined to be legendary because of the personalities and circumstances of their filming. "The Misfits" was one of those.

Everything concerning the film combined for drama. The king of movie stars, Clark Gable, found himself surrounded by the new crop of actors, whose method he could not understand. A believer in strict professionalism, he was co-starred with Marilyn Monroe, who was incapable of being on time.

The script was a love letter by Arthur Miller to Marilyn, who was about to end their marriage. For Gable it was a time of personal joy; he learned he was to become a father for the first time.

Ten days after "The Misfits" was completed, Gable was dead of a heart attack. A year and a half later, Marilyn died of a pill overdose.

The day-to-day drama of the filming is captured in "The Story of the Misfits," a new book by James Goode, a magazine writer who observed the project at close hand from beginning to end.

Some highlights: Marilyn established the pattern of behavior on her arrival at the Reno location. She was 30 minutes late in getting off the plane.

The first question asked each day by the film troupe: "Is Marilyn working today?" Gable, commenting on the interminable delays: "You'll probably see a lot of fire and smoke before we're through with this picture." He recalled that Jean Harlow was always punctual and added, "In those days when stars were late, they were fired."

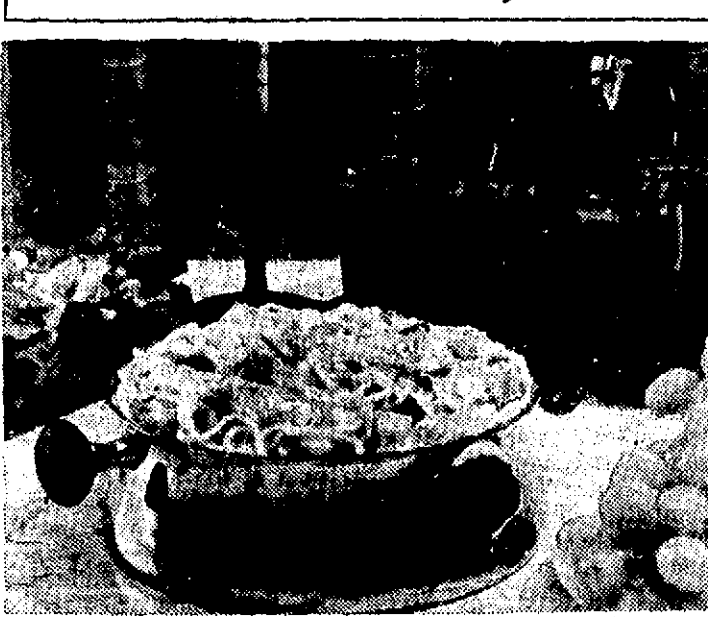

Director John Huston: "We get so little done. It's unthinkable for an actor not to start at 9 in the morning." Marilyn never appeared before 10:30.

"The Misfits" finally finished after 90 shooting days and $4 million, 40 days and a half-million over what was planned. It was a commercial failure. But it will long live in Hollywood legend.

PAYING HEAVY PRICE FOR NIGHT OF SIN

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: My son was born out of wedlock and I placed him for adoption. Now no matter what I do, his little face haunts me. People say, "Forget!" But how do you forget your baby?

About three months after this happened, I started baby-sitting for my brother's kids, then quit three weeks ago and returned home. My stepmother got me a job at a truckstop with cabins in the rear. I was to live in one but my stepbrother said No! saying Mom knew the place and what the cabins were for.

Again I went home but my folks were going on vacation so my brother took me in. That's where I am now. He and his wife are already caring for a nephew and can't afford me. Too, they have a small boy. Being out of work, I don't pay anything.

I hesitate to go back to my town because the baby's father lives there. I'm 16 and have my own car but can't drive it till I obtain my license. What should I do? —One Who Does Not Know Where to Turn

Dear One: Your best bet seems to be to return to your home town, but not knowing what the baby's father is like or how you feel toward him it is impossible to say how wise or painful that move will be.

How about church? A priest, minister or rabbi could not only help you adjust to the loss of your son, but would know if there are local agencies where you might find lodging and a job.

Try to think how happy you have made the couple who took your boy and how much better a life they are able to provide him with than you could hope to give him. The time will come once you have built a decent, responsible life for yourself when you will be able to marry and have a baby for keeps. Then you can avish on an legitimate family the added over you fee for this child you were brave enough to bear and give away. Resolve to put those unhappy memories behind you.

If necessary, create a job. Since you have a car why not get your license and start an auto service for busy mothers? Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my advice, "Woman at Work."

Dear Helen: I was recently introduced to a 15-year-old boy from Florida. I am 13. He was only here for two weeks. Now he has disappeared and writes every day. Yesterday he phoned to ask me to spend the day with him in the mountains. Having never been out of the state, I feel this would be a good experience but my mother thinks we are too serious. We shouldn't be alone since my boy friend's aunt and family go there every weekend and I could travel with them. My mother would like your opinion. —Adventurer

Dear Adventurer: You are young, as is the boy. Ask your mother to write his aunt and explain her worries. The better acquainted she becomes with his family the more she will be able to judge whether or not it

200,000 a Year Try to End Lives

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Two million Americans—more than one in 100—already have tried to commit suicide.

Some 200,000 try each year to take their own lives and 25,000 to 35,000 or more actually succeed.

Dr. Louis I. Dublin, a famous statistician, cited these estimates today in urging that suicide be recognized "as a serious public health problem" and that communities and health officials act now to prevent this toll.

The attempts at suicide all represent "cries for help," he told the American Public Health Association.

"Because they involve young people for the most part, their numbers accumulate over the years," he said. "I estimate that today there are at least two million persons alive in the United States who have a history of one or more such attempts."

"These people who survive this searing emotional experience constitute a pool from which the completed suicides of succeeding years are largely drawn."

Of those who try suicide, most are under 30, and are mostly young women, Dr. Dublin said. Of those who succeed, most are well over 50, and men outnumber women 3-1.

People kill themselves to collect insurance, or because they are dying of incurable disease, but the majority are emotionally or mentally overwhelmed or upset, said Dr. Dublin, retired second vice president and statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

But if people with problems can get help and sympathy, he said, "experience has shown that suicide is, to a degree at least, a preventable condition."

Dr. Dublin said coordination of the social, medical, and psychological services in many communities is needed to rescue the would-be suicide "by offering a helping hand" night or day.

Most important is to make your gift personal — and this means shopping in time to have it engraved with his initials, monogram or a private personal message. Two weeks usually is required for such engraving, but during the Christmas rush you'll be safer if you order the gift a month ahead of time.

Canned Dry Soup Mix Makes A Louisiana Meal

The natives of New Orleans had a great idea when the gumbo was born. Creole cookery, world famous for its unique flavor and combinations, was the originator of the gumbo, probably the most famous meal-in-a-bowl to come out of the South.

Old Creole recipes call for as many as 25 ingredients... not to mention hours of preparation. Now that great New Orleans taste can come to your table in half the time. Canned chicken noodle dry soup mix starts the tureen a-bubbling. All that locked in flavor is easier than ever to get now. The latest news in those wonderful aluminum cans which store so well is a new quick-open top. Just a flip of the tab, a tug... and zip comes the sealing strip and top—and now the cans may be used to measure the liquid required—5 1/4 cans equal 3 cups.

Succulent bits of chicken and rich noodles in the soup mix are a perfect way to start the gumbo. Add sliced okra and cooked tomatoes for a touch of authenticity and make this Gumbo Special taste just like its forebearers.

Complete the meal in the southern tradition with a salad of escarole and anchovies and a dessert of elegant Black Bottom Pie.

Gumbo Special

1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 1/2 cups water
1/2 cup cooked tomatoes
1 can (1 1/4 ounces) chicken noodle dry soup mix
1/2 cup diced cooked okra
In saucepan, cook celery, onion, and green pepper in butter until tender. Add water, tomatoes, thyme, and soup mix. Bring to boil, stirring. Partially cover; simmer 7 minutes. Add okra; heat, stirring now and then. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Controversy has arisen over a proposal that Capt. Henrique Galvao, who hijacked the Portuguese liner Santa Maria in 1961, visit the United States to testify before the U.N. Trusteeship Committee.

The proposal was made Monday by U.S. delegate Sidney R. Yates.

U.S. delegate Sidney R. Yates told the committee his government has no objection to Galvao's appearance. But he said if he came to New York he would be subject to the extradition treaty between the United States and Portugal. The Portuguese have charged him with a piracy.

The committee postponed action until Wednesday.

News of the Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

MISSILE SITE STRIKES: A voluntary system of settling labor squabbles under a presidential commission has virtually eliminated lost time in constructing the nation's vast complex of missiles sites and space facilities, says Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

"Every program is either on time or ahead of schedule at a time when the scope of these operations has expanded," Wirtz said Monday in a report to President Kennedy.

Wirtz is chairman of the President's Missile Sites Labor Commission, which includes leaders from labor and management.

Charge May Cloud Talks on Culture

By ENDRE MARTON
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia's arrest of Yale Prof. Fred C. Barghoorn on spy charges casts a dark cloud on forthcoming Moscow talks on cultural exchanges, a U.S. source said today.

The high-ranking source, who said he was rather pessimistic about the outcome of the negotiations anyway, added that Soviet charges against the 52-year-old specialist on Russia will not make negotiations any easier.

Barghoorn's plight will be a thorn particularly in the negotiations dealing with the exchange of students and professors.

Barghoorn was connected with the exchange program as a member of the National Executive Committee of the Interuniversity Committee on Travel Grants.

This group handled such questions as placing of Soviet students in this country and screening American students going to the Soviet Union.

The Soviet Foreign Ministry notified the U.S. Embassy in Moscow Tuesday that Barghoorn was arrested several days ago, accused of spying.

There was speculation that his arrest was another tilt-for-tat cold war move.

Three Russians accused of spying were rounded up two weeks ago at Englewood, N.J. Two were expelled from the country. The third, Igor A. Ivanov, is being held for trial. Some sources speculated the Kremlin may hope to exchange Barghoorn for Ivanov.

The professor, who had written several books critical of the Soviet Union, was in Russia on a 30-day tourist visa to collect information for a book he planned on Soviet political institutions.

Religious Rights Draft to Council

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A draft decree declaring that all men have the right to religious freedom today was reported ready for presentation to the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council.

The document may be one of the last major decrees to go before the 2,300 prelates before this second session of the council adjourns Dec. 4.

The decree, part of the schema on ecumenism, was drafted by the secretariat for promoting Christian unity.

It expresses the view that a person is free to follow the dictates of his conscience, that no one should be harassed because of his religious views, and that a particular faith should never be forced on anyone.

The decree, if approved, will be the first clear and authoritative statement of the Roman Church's position on religious liberty.

Lack of such a statement has sometimes been a source of friction between Roman Catholics and Protestants. In predominantly Catholic Spain and some Latin-American countries, for example, protestants have accused the Church of being responsible for restrictions on their activities.

St. Paul's, completed in 1710, has never been cleaned.
